ROMANCE OF CRIME.

A young man, who gave his name as William Anderson, which was assumed, was sent to the Iowa penitentiary from Danvers a few days ago, having been convicted on a charge of burglary. Some interesting facts in the criminal career have since come to light. He is the son of a prominent and wealthy citizen of Detroit, and received a thorough education, graduating with honor at one of New England's foremost colleges. After a trip to Europe and several months spent in traveling in this country, he returned to Detroit, where his father secured him a partnership in a leading dry goods house. While occupying this position he met a woman of beauty, fascinating address and finished education, several years older than himself, of whom he became completely enamored. On her the young man lavished money; and when he had drained his own purse, stole funds from the store, gambled, and finally committed several forgeries, in order to meet his demands. When his crimes came to light the woman left the city and has never been heard of since. The sorrowing father, to save his name from disgrace, before the police could get the stolen property, quietly paid the forged paper, and the erring son a considerable amount of money with which to commence life anew in the far West. He kept up no correspondence with his father, and the father and had it not happened that a gentleman from Detroit was present in the court room at the time of his trial, it is probable that he would not have known of his present whereabouts.

THE SWEDISH ARTIC EXPEDITION.

The Stockholm Correspondent states that reassuring news has reached it from Christiana about the Swedish expedition under the direction of M. Nordenskjöld, as he has been informed that the vessel, whose fate in the Arctic regions caused considerable uneasiness. Five hours after the steamer Albatross, fitted up by the Norwegian Government, had left Tromsø, the Norwegian fisherman, who arrived at Hammerfest on board a vessel. Another vessel, which had left Forlandssund at the same time as they had, was separated from them during the voyage. Other fishermen have heard in northern Norway, which was still navigable on the 6th of November. The vessels of M. Nordenskjöld expedition are running south, four vessels being forced to winter in the Arctic instead of one, as was originally intended. These vessels are the Polhem, the Onkel, the Adam and the Gladan. Some of the missing fishing-boats have gone to Graveland, where the expedition is now, and the vessel from Tromsø overtook her at Fugle, and then they continued together as far as Hammerfest, where the Tromsø vessel stopped, according to orders.

GOVERNOR'S MESSAGE.

There is good cause for congratulation, that while the people of Ohio have not been altogether exempt from misfortune during the year which has just drawn to a close, yet no startling calamity has befallen them. Peace, health and agricultural prosperity have generally prevailed within the limits of our State; the standard of education has been steadily advanced; crime has been diminished; good and honest men maintained; success attended the ventures of capital, and rich reward has followed close upon the footsteps of labor. While, within a few months past, desolation has been laid in the path of our beautiful cities, East and West of us, our homes have been spared, and all our towns and cities have been busy with their multiplied and interrupted industries.

A WIFE'S TITLE TO REAL ESTATE.

Judge Drummond, of the United States Circuit Court, has recently decided a case at Chicago, Illinois, involving a wife's title to real estate in that State. In this case the property was conveyed by the husband with solvent to a third party, and the wife, who was the husband's wife, afterwards became a bankrupt. His creditors held that under the statute of Illinois the wife could not hold a separate estate thing in her own right, and under the common law the husband was entitled to the rents and profits of the wife's real estate during coverture. Both points were sustained by Judge Drummond, but his decision was reversed on appeal. The husband was allowed to take possession of the property, and the wife was allowed to take possession of the property.

A SHOCKING ACCIDENT.

A well-known miner of California recently visited his mine and stepped into the bucket and was let down. During the descent the rope broke and let the bucket loose. Its occupant seized the upper end of the rope and hung suspended. The end of the rope, however, was not attached to the bucket, and the miner was left hanging by the rope. He was rescued by a fellow miner, who climbed up the rope and helped him down. The miner was badly injured, and his leg was broken. He was taken to a hospital, where he died a few days later.

same as confined in any other than building as nearly fire-proof as can be made. There are brick buildings at Circleville and Alliance which can be purchased, but not rented, and which could be made safe. It is possible there are others in the State which should, however, receive the immediate attention of the Legislature.

In rebuilding the Newburg Asylum, and in finishing those at Columbus and Dayton, great care should be taken to guard against fire. It is believed that the present design of the new buildings even does not make them fire-proof, or as nearly so as possible. And it is certain that the Dayton Asylum needs very considerable change to render it reasonably secure. Plans and estimates of cost will be furnished by the Trustees of the Newburg and Dayton Asylums, for rebuilding and changing these institutions in accordance with the present requirements.

CONTRACTS FOR THE ERECTION OF PUBLIC BUILDINGS.

You are requested to consider whether the present law, under which our public buildings are erected, cannot be so changed as to render their construction more economical. The law as it now stands, was intended to guard against peculation and fraud. It is believed that this could be well secured by the law modified in some important particulars. That provision which requires, or has been under construction to require, that for different kinds of work to be awarded to separate bidders, whenever the sum total is less than the amount of any single bid for the whole work, is of doubtful utility. A number of contractors, acting independently, with no community of interest, whenever there is unnecessary delay, is shifted from one to another; if any one contractor is unwise, the State is subjected to fulfill his agreement, the whole work is retarded, more especially, as the trustees in charge of the work, have no power under the construction which they have given to the law, to substitute other employees for those who fail in their duty, without re-advancing, and proceeding as with an original contract. I think it would be better, where the discrepancy is not very great to allow the Trustees to direct, either to sub-divide the work, or to let the contract as an entirety. And when any contractor fails, the work should be prosecuted by the Trustees, under proper restrictions, without delay, and without re-advancing, the original contractor being made liable upon his bond for the difference in cost, if there should be an excess. If the contract for one of our public institutions could be awarded to a single responsible business man, who be required to give a good and sufficient bond for the faithful performance of his duty, much time and money could be saved. The interest upon yearly expenditures which bring no return, on account of the great length of time consumed in erecting one of our public buildings, would amount to an enormous sum. Saving from saving money by the present system, the loss is great and inevitable. We have recently seen a magnificent city, with immense blocks of buildings, erected at a high, high, attractive and durable, spring out of the ashes in six months time; yet we consume five or six years in constructing an edifice which ought to be finished in twelve months, or in two years at the utmost limit. I do not believe this to be, to any considerable extent, perhaps it is not, at all, the fault of the Trustees; they are hampered by the law, and it ought to be so changed or modified as to give our public institutions which experience has developed.

OHIO PENITENTIARY.

A radical change in the construction of the cells of the Ohio Penitentiary is earnestly recommended. As at present constructed, the cells are of brick, each cell being 34 feet, and 7 feet high. It is proposed to build them in four tiers, the cells to be 8 feet 4 inches, and 8 feet high. There is now a great brick wall, eight feet high, and 18 inches thick, and no air enters the cells. The prisoners, especially in summer, are sickening and dying, and the authorities are endeavoring to get out of their cells, to engage in the hardest kind of labor. The prison physician declares that it is impossible to prevent frequent attacks of pneumonia, so long as the prisoners are kept in such a vitiated atmosphere. To the expressive language of the Rev. Mr. Byers, a former Chaplain of the prison: "The men never come out of their cells looking or feeling as they do on Monday morning, as they do on other days of the week." During the Sabbath, which ought to be a day of rest, our prisoners are laboring for breath. I am not exaggerating when I say that the present construction of this matter, and do not desire that criminals should sleep on a bed of roses, or be surrounded with luxuries. But they ought to be humanely treated, and their lives should be spared, and not forfeited under the sentence of the law. To be sure, everything which kind-hearted overseers can devise, is done for their well-being. The law of kindness has been sacrificed for that of cruelty and hate. An effort has been made to create a feeling of self respect in place of the sense of utter degradation. The prisoners are more trusted than formerly, and are invited to the churches of cost and religious instruction. The result has been what might have been anticipated. The prisoners they so treated, have only in rare instances betrayed the confidence reposed in them. They destroyed less material than formerly; they do their work better and more of it; and the prison, instead of being a great expense to the State, as it was for so many years, is a source of considerable income. Great credit is due to the Board of Directors and the officers in the immediate charge of the prison.

CRIMINAL LAW.

Of course the changes proposed in the construction of the prison, necessitate the erection of a new building, for which there is ample and convenient room. A new system of average is also very much needed, and a new roof to the old building is indispensable. It should be thought advisable to make the improvements suggested, nearly all the work could be done by convict labor, though considerable extra work would be required. Estimates of cost and plans, have already been prepared under the direction of the Warden of the Penitentiary, and are ready for your inspection.

INSURANCE DEPARTMENT.

Complaint is made that the law now in force, passed March 12, 1872, creating and regulating the Insurance Department, is unnecessarily severe in its operation upon the Insurance companies of the State. Section 9 of the law makes it the duty of the Superintendent, in case the net assets of any company shall be less than ten per cent, to require of the officers that they direct the stockholders to pay in the amount of the deficiency within such period as shall be determined by the Superintendent. The amendment suggested by the Superintendent of Insurance is, that it shall be lawful for a Company to continue business for a reasonable time, say twenty days, after service of the requisition, providing its net assets shall not exceed fifty per cent. The Commissioner very properly suggests: "This would give such Company a chance to recover while it has some vitality. Suspending its business during the time indicated would be tantamount to destroying it, and renders it almost impossible to resume again to any profit."

PROTECTION OF MINERS.

A law was enacted at your last session, intended for the protection of miners, which, among other things, provides that there shall be two openings for each mine, whenever thirty thousand yards of coal shall have been cut. It is thought that experience has demonstrated the necessity for a modification of the law before the expiration of the term of the Legislature. An intelligent practical miner very truthfully says: "Underground operations are as removed from the reach of public vigilance and investigation. Supervisors and miners are perpetually under the eye of the law, requiring frequent inspection by well informed, practical and scientific men."

Every mining nation on the globe has found it necessary, in the development of subterranean treasures, to provide for official supervision in the interest of the underground people."

Every mining nation on the globe has found it necessary, in the development of subterranean treasures, to provide for official supervision in the interest of the underground people."

RECOMMENDATIONS OF SECRETARY OF STATE.

The Secretary of State makes many valuable suggestions in his annual report, and very properly recommends the codification of our laws, and the reorganization of the duties of the Secretary of State, and an amendment to the law which prescribes the manner of forwarding election returns, and the time and manner of counting the vote. You are referred to the Secretary's report for a full statement of the objections to the present statutes.

ASYLUMS FOR DEAF AND DUMB, BLIND, AND IMBECILES.

The charitable institutions of the State, not already referred to—the Asylum for the Deaf and Dumb, for the blind, and for Imbecile Youth, under able, efficient and faithful management, have opened a new world to hundreds of boys and girls with whom nature seems to have dealt severely. Alas, otherwise barren and cheerless, have through the agency of these institutions, been rendered useful and happy. The liberality of the State, and the kindly services of superintendents and teachers, have lifted heavy burdens from the shoulders of the unfortunate and needy.

FOR DETAILS OF GREAT INTEREST, YOU ARE REFERRED TO THE OFFICIAL REPORTS OF THE SEVERAL ASYLUMS, ALREADY TRANSMITTED TO YOU.

SUFFERERS BY THE BURNING OF NEWBURG ASYLUM.

A memorial has been filed in the Executive office by the Trustees of the Township of Newburg, Cuyahoga county, Ohio, praying that the Legislature be requested to make an appropriation on behalf of the families of certain persons killed when the Northern Lunatic Asylum was destroyed by fire, and to defray expenses of medical attendance and burial, for some who were severely injured but not killed.

It is well known that a number of persons lost their lives, and that others were disabled, while attempting to save the property of the State and the insane people. Great hardship and suffering have resulted from their generous and self-sacrificing conduct. It would seem to be right that the cases of greatest necessity should be relieved by liberal provision. Some who suffered, and the friends of some who died ask nothing. The amount prayed for is not large, and I recommend that it be granted.

THE MEMORIAL REFERRED TO WILL BE TRANSMITTED FOR THE EXAMINATION OF THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY.

I very respectfully suggest that upon subjects which are likely to excite much interest, and which are of great importance to the people, the General Assembly should be kept advised by the publication of a paper, which should be published in the name of the State, and which should contain all the proceedings of the General Assembly, and which should be published in the name of the State, and which should contain all the proceedings of the General Assembly.

EDWARD F. NOYES, Governor.

Retracy of Sheriff Beach.

A Delightful Entertainment.

ALLEN J. BEACH, Esq., on the occasion of retiring from the cares and responsibilities of office, gave a splendid entertainment at the Commercial Hotel, in this city, on Saturday evening last.

Among the invited guests were the Judges of our Court, the members of the Bar, the City Editors, the Scribes on his Official Bond, the County Officials, and a few personal friends—making, altogether a party of some sixty or seventy persons. The supper was announced about 9 o'clock, when Mr. Beach, in that dignified and systematic manner that has characterized all his acts assigned Judge Adams to preside at the head of the table, and then called the names of the lawyers, in pairs, according to priority at the Bar, and requested them to file to the right and left of the table until all were seated. A similar order was made in regard to the Editors, Bondsmen, &c. The dining room was handsomely decorated with flags, mottoes, &c., suitable to the occasion. The supper, which was an excellent one, being disposed of, a ca. 22, was issued for the arrest of sundry long-necked gentlemen seated in a closet, and in a moment there was "a charge along the entire line"—the shooting of corks resembling the roar of musketry.

AS SOON AS THE "SMOKE OF BATTLE" WAS CLEARED AWAY, JUDGE ADAMS, in a handsome and appropriate speech, spoke of the occasion that brought so many of the members of the Bar and others together.

The Judge said that Mr. Elliott, upon retiring from the office of Clerk, gave an entertainment to his friends. Mr. Curtis, upon the 50th Anniversary of his admission to the Bar, also gave an entertainment; and now, Mr. Beach, upon retiring from office, after faithfully serving the people, has invited those with whom he has had pleasant official intercourse for many years, to meet him at the festive board. The Judge paid a high compliment to the admirable manner in which Mr. Beach has discharged the duties of Sheriff; and concluded by expressing the hope that health and prosperity may ever attend him through life.

MR. BEACH, who occupied the foot of the table, was called out, but declined making a speech, stating that he desired to entertain his friends and not to inflict a speech upon them. Councilman White, of the 3d Ward, however, appeared in behalf of Mr. Beach, and read some humorous verses, which called forth great applause.

SHORT SPEECHES FOLLOWED BY H. B. CURTIS, Walter H. Smith, Judge Hurd, Major Sapp, Samuel Israel, H. L. Greer, Joseph C. Devin, Clark Irvine, Sr., Frank H. Hurd, L. Harper and W. T. Bascom, all of whom spoke in complimentary terms of the prompt, faithful, and satisfactory manner in which Mr. Beach discharged the duties of Sheriff.

New Year's in Mt. Vernon.
The weather for a few days previous to New Year's was damp and chilly; the streets had become slushy, the walking disagreeable, and altogether the prospects were not very flattering for a pleasant day. But on New Year's eve the weather changed, and the morning dawned with the ground frozen in fine style, making the sleighing and pedestrianism as good as one could wish for.

The time honored custom of New Year's receptions, has of late years become quite popular in our beautiful little city, and its celebration this year far exceeded any of its predecessors. Our young ladies, whose fame for beauty and loveliness is widespread, as a general thing threw open their houses to receive their guests. The following is a list of the ladies who received.

Miss Anna Lewis received her callers most graciously at her residence, West High street.
Mrs. Walter H. Smith, assisted by her daughter Miss Estelle, Mrs. W. C. Sapp and Miss Etta Ingram, entertained her guests in an elegant manner at her home on High street.

Miss Fannie Hyde, together with her friends Miss Flora McGregor and Miss Allie Mowry of Mansfield, entertained callers very cordially at her residence on High street.
Mrs. H. T. Porter, assisted by her daughters Miss Ella and Emma, their cousin, Miss Daisy Porter, of Maryland, and Miss Crisfield, received her guests in a most hospitable manner at her residence on High street.

Mrs. F. D. Sturges and daughter Miss May, entertained callers cordially at their home on Gambier street.
The Misses Peterman were assisted by Miss Aggie Byers, and received callers in splendid style at their residence on Gambier street.

Miss Anna Weaver, assisted by her friend Mrs. Belle Patrick, of Urbana, entertained their guests in a most gracious manner, at her home on Gambier street.
Mrs. L. Harper and daughter Miss Katie, received callers at their residence on Gambier street.

John Pottung entertained callers in her usual happy manner, at her home on Gambier avenue.
Miss Cal. White received callers very cordially, at her residence on Chestnut street.
Misses Laura and Lottie Bascom, assisted by Miss Ella Davidson, had an elegant reception at their home on Main street.

Mrs. H. L. Curtis, assisted by Miss Lizzy Plimpton and Miss Cora Cooper, received at her residence on Sugar street.
Mrs. Dr. H. W. Smith, assisted by her daughter Miss Clara and Mrs. Maj. Sapp, entertained guests in magnificent style, at her home on Chestnut street.

Mrs. H. B. Curtis, assisted by her daughter Mrs. Plimpton, entertained guests at her beautiful "Round Hill" home.
Mrs. Columbus Delano received in Washington City, assisted by Mrs. John Delano, Mrs. Gen. John A. Logan, Mrs. D. C. Cox, and Mrs. Robert Clark of this city.

Miss Jennie Sapp received with friends at Lafayette, Ind.
Miss Hattie Morgan received calls with friends at Zanesville, Ohio.
The following is a list of the ladies who did not receive, but whose compliments were attached to baskets hung on the bell-knobs at their doors:

Mrs. Flo. Gotschall, Miss Eva Bryant, Mrs. G. B. Potwin, Miss Sade Vance, Mrs. R. C. Kirk, Mrs. W. B. Russell, Miss Nannie Brown, Mrs. Gen. Morgan, Miss Dec. Irvine, Miss Maria Rowley, Mrs. J. A. Cooper, Mrs. Charles Bovey, Mrs. Judge Adams, Miss Minnie Miller, Miss Clara White, Mrs. Adair Weaver, Mrs. G. W. Stahl, Mrs. L. B. Curtis, Mrs. Rollin Curtis, Mrs. O. M. Arnold, Misses Emma and Fannie Taylor, Mrs. Dr. Kelsey, Mrs. Judge Hurd, Mrs. J. C. Devin and Mrs. C. A. Updegraff.

The festivities of the day closed by a grand sheet and pillow-case party and dance, given by Miss Cora Cooper, at the residence of her father, the Hon. Charles Cooper, on Sugar street. It was the most novel as well as the most pleasing dance that Mt. Vernon has ever witnessed. The manner of its arrangement is something like this: Each lady and gentleman take a sheet and pillow-case with them. Arriving at the house the ladies and gentlemen, after adorning their separate dressing rooms, attire themselves in the strange costume, which is done by throwing the sheet loosely around the body, so that the two sides will meet in front. It is held to the person by means of sashes tied about the waist—the ladies wearing pink and the gentlemen blue sashes. The ends are then looped up so as to form flowing sleeves. A pillow-case is then thrown over the back part of the head, a domino covers the face and the masquerade is complete.

The band struck up their music and dancing commenced at 9 o'clock, and the scenes that followed were amusing beyond description. Perfect silence reigned, and intercourse was carried on by means of signs and signals. Not unfrequently guests would be dancing with each other, and ladies would find themselves in the same situation. The only means of recognition was by examining the hands, which in most instances were encased in gloves. If T. M. O'Shanter could have come back to earth, and mounted on his grey mare "Meg" had been looking through the windows and witnessing the proceedings, he might have had imagined that the scenes in Old Kirk Alloway were being re-enacted. At 11 o'clock, after a grand march, the two lines were drawn up facing each other, and at a word of command the dominoes were removed, causing the greatest excitement of the evening. A sumptuous repast was then served, after which Terpsichore reigned supreme until 2 o'clock. A. M., when, after mutual congratulations with the hostess, the happy assemblage adjourned to their several homes.

For Preserving and Beautifying the Human Hair. To Prevent its Falling Out and Turning Gray.
A well-preserved Head of Hair, in a person of middle age, at once bespeaks refinement, elegance, health and beauty. It may truly be called Woman's Crowning Glory, while men are not insensible to its advantages and charms. Few things are more disgusting than thin, flabby, lank, untended Hair, with head and coat covered with Dandruff. Visit a barber and you feel like a new man. This is what LYON'S KATHAIRON will do all the time. The charm which lies in well placed Hair, Glossy Curls, Lustrous Tresses, and a Clean Head is noticeable and irresistible.

S. T.—1860—X.

This wonderful vegetable restorative is the sheet-anchor of the feeble and debilitated. As a tonic and cordial for the aged and languid it has no equal among stomachics. As a remedy for the nervous weakness to which women are especially subject, it is superseding every other stimulant. In all climates, tropical, temperate or frigid, it acts as a specific in every species of disorder which undermines the bodily strength and breaks down the animal spirits.

This disease is an influenza, more resembling Diphtheria than Catarrh. It affects the throat and glands, and, if neglected, passes to the lungs, producing death. Apply the Oil to the throat and neck immediately on the appearance of the disease, and it will cure by preventing it going to the lungs.

This Oil is sold by the Chicago Street Railway Companies, Omnibus Lines, Express, Livery and Sale Stables. Also, by the Street Railways and Livery Stables of Cleveland, Detroit, Toledo, Toronto, Montreal, New York and in the New England States, with more efficiency and greater success than any remedy known to the public.

OFFICE OF THE EAST CLEVELAND ST. RAILWAY CO., CLEVELAND, Nov. 4, 72.

C. E. WEBB & BRO., Jackson, Mich. We are using Ferguson's Wonderful Oil up on the horses in our stable sick with the horse disease. We commenced with our horses soon as they were taken by applying the Oil to their throats and necks, rubbing it in well as you direct. We find it relieves the soreness and inflammation of the throat and relieves the cough before it improves almost immediately after the application of the Oil. I must say that it gives relief sooner than any medicine I have seen used for this disease. We have about 100 horses in our stable nearly all sick, and have used nothing else upon them but Ferguson's Wonderful Oil, and every horse is rapidly improving. We can confidently recommend it as a valuable medicine for this disease.

E. DUTY, Superintendent.

HAIR

RENEWER

Every year increases the popularity of this valuable Hair Preparation, which is due to merit alone. We can assure our old patrons that it is kept fully up to its high standard, and is as reliable and perfected preparation for restoring GRAY or FADED HAIR to its youthful color, making it soft, lustrous, and silken. The scalp, by its use, becomes white and clean. It removes all eruptions and dandruff, and, by its tonic properties, prevents the hair from falling out, as it stimulates the growth of the hair, and keeps the hair-follicles in a healthy condition. By its use, the hair grows thicker and stronger. In baldness, it restores the capillary glands to their normal vigor, and will create a new growth, except in extreme old age. It is the most economical HAIR DRESSING ever used, as it requires fewer applications, and gives the hair a splendid gloss, appearance. A. J. HAYES, M.D., State Assayer of Massachusetts, says, "The constituents are pure, and carefully selected for excellent quality; and I consider it the BEST PREPARATION for its intended purposes."

Sold by all Druggists, and Dealers in Medicines.
